THE NINETEEN FORTY-EIGHT PINE NEEDLES

In deepest appreciation for three years of patient listening to the difficulties that confronted us, for understanding and encouraging us, and for making the dream of graduation a reality, we proudly dedicate the 1948 PINE NEEDLES to our Class Chairman, Dr. Edna Arundel.

It is through her inspiring guidance, her sincerity, and her faith in us that we, the Class of '48, take our place in society as confident citizens.

Miss Harriet W. Elliott

Inspiring teacher, loyal friend, great patriot. . . . We who remain shall long remember Harriet Elliott, because she was these—and more—to us.

We shall remember her keen, well-disciplined mind, her energy and vigor, her quick but kindly sense of humor—her abrupt, infectious chuckle. And even more important, her philosophy of life which now lies rooted in our student government.

We shall not soon forget her words "responsible freedom", her readiness to try the new and seemingly impossible, her acceptance of our imperfections. We shall remember her conviction that our college life should make us ready for the world, not hide us from it. We shall remember that she set our goals where we might reach them.

We shall be ever grateful for the faith and confidence she had in us, for her never-failing optimism, her sympathetic understanding. What she has given us of herself is her most lasting memorial—a challenge to live up to her belief in our potentialities for responsible citizenship.

We are proud that we had the privilege of knowing Harriet Elliott as our dean . . . and friend.

Dr. Frank Porter Graham, President
The Greater University of North Carolina

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Frank Porter Graham

Woman's College students have a special place in their hearts for "Dr. Frank," as he is lovingly called by those who know him best. He has become our loyal and steadfast friend, by his friendly manner, his warm sincerity, and his abounding interest in the progress of our college. We await his visits to our campus in eager anticipation. His speeches give us inspiration and renewed hope. As one of the South's leading educators, "Dr. Frank" has done much for our greater university, for his state, and for the South.

Mr. William D. Carmichael, Jr.

Balancing the budget of as great an institution as the Greater University of North Carolina is quite a task, but Mr. Billy Carmichael does a splendid job of it. We are always glad to see him and to have him visit our campus. His charming personality and vibrant enthusiasm make him always welcome.

Chancellor Walter C. Jackson

With his warm and personal manner, his devotion to our happiness and welfare, and his optimistic spirit, Dr. Jackson is the core of our college. Our best friend and most able leader, he is always ready to listen to our ideas and lend a guiding hand in all our endeavors. His presence at student gatherings and college functions adds to any function. His enthusiastic support is a constant stimulus to our ideal—and his—that The Woman's College shall remain "second to none."

Miss Katherine Taylor

For three years we knew Miss Taylor as the active and enthusiastic counselor of Weil Hall, and as a most capable professor of French. When she assumed the position of Acting Dean of Women, she was already firmly established as a friend and leader of students. As our Dean, her consideration and interest, and her insight into campus affairs, have made her a recognized and integral part of our college.

The Alumnae and Former Students Association, Inc.

Your Alumnae Association welcomes you -- our closest contact with the college--into its ranks. Throughout the past four years you have no doubt been looking forward to your graduation, only to find when the joyous day arrives that it is also full of sadness. One of the reasons for being sad is the fear that once away from W. C., you will lose contact with your friends and the College. Time and again our active alumnae write that because of the Association, they never lose touch. Let the Alumnae Office be your means of keeping in touch, and the Alumnae House, your headquarters each time you return to the college.

We have been further saddened this year by the passing of five other persons who gave generously of their teaching and friendship to thousands of girls for many years. Some of these five leaders were pioneers in the development of this college; all of them devoted their lives to the building of an institution of which we may be justly proud. . . .

Miss Coleman organized the department of physical education and was its head for twenty-seven years. Mr. Forney, the last surviving member of Dr. McIver's original faculty, was the first treasurer and established the department of business education. Dr. Gove, head physician from 1893 to 1937, established the department of health; and Miss Jamison, long a secretary and counselor, organized the home economics department. Miss Laird, an associate professor of French, was a member of the faculty for twenty-five years. We cannot estimate the extent of their influence, for their lives have become a part of the history of our college. . . .

Their lasting memorials are the reflections of their personalities in our way of life here. All were respected and beloved, and will be long remembered. Their contributions have helped make Woman's College what it is today. . . .

STUDENT

Woman's College Student Government, unique in a school distinguished for its democracy, was our pride. By including each of the twenty-two hundred girls on campus, Student Government approached a realization of our democratic ideal.

The Student Government officers served their apprenticeship last spring after their election. They officially assumed the responsibility of administration during the last mass meeting in May. These new officers faithfully organized the Pre-School Conference which was scheduled for early September and was attended by Student leaders and active faculty members. In 1947-1948, significant emphasis was placed on the Honor Policy, the Legislative program, and the social activities. The program framed and the policies formulated during Pre-School Conference remained the guides for the officers until the close of school in June. At the half-way mark of the school year, an inventory of progress was made by these officers and further plans were laid at this check-up conference.

Honor Board and Judicial Board served as policy making bodies. Through residence hall discussions, through explanations to the freshmen, and the traditional skit at the first mass meeting, the idea of responsible freedom became a part of the philosophy of each student. Legislature cooperated in a constructive way by eliminating unnecessary rules.

Student Government at the Woman's College followed the traditional phases—legislative, judicial, and executive. President Betsy Bulluck presided over Judicial Board and mass meetings, appointed committee chairmen, and exercised all executive powers.

Susan Womack as Vice-President of Student Government presided at Legislature, assisted with the handbook, and was responsible for chapel seating. To Secretary Betsy Umstead was delegated the responsibility of keeping records of Judicial Board and Hall Board cases, and taking minutes of mass meetings. Treasurer Betty Phillips managed the budget and was responsible for minutes of Legislature.

Woman's College has been for us a laboratory for democratic living. The citizens of tomorrow have taken their primary courses in democratic living under the auspices of the Student Government Association.

JUDICIAL BOARD

... entrusted with judiciary authority in honor cases has striven toward making the student body aware of the responsibilities that go hand in hand with the privilege of having student government. Five seniors, two juniors, and a faculty advisor compose the "Judy Board" over which the president of Student Government presides. The secretary of Student Government acts as secretary. A member of "Judy Board" sits in on the Hall Boards which are set up in each dormitory and consists of the house presidents and four other girls from the dormitory. It is these house judiciary boards that handle all minor cases, while the major honor offenses fall under the jurisdiction of the Student Government Judicial Board.

The keynote of this group has been a stronger honor policy through more individual responsibility and somewhat stricter corrective measures. By explaining to students the reasons for rules and talking to honor cases before they have gone before the board, President Betsy Bulluck and the members of Judy Board have tried to make the honor code an integral part of campus life.

Finance Board: Betsy Benson, Nell Holliday, Dr. Albert Keister, Jean Griffith, Chairman; Mr. John Luckhart, Miss Evelyn Fowler, Jan Shore.

Elections Board: Martha Ann Klutz, Miss Zoe Swecher, Betty Lou Sharpe, Chairman; Joyce Clayton, Elizabeth Biddings, Helen Seawell, Gertrude Bender, Mary Ann Huddleston.

Points Committee: Margaret Johnson, Helen Douglas, Chairman; Wilma Fullerton, Mrs. Annie Beam Funderburk, Frances Ferguson, Miss Elizabeth Burroughs, Elizabeth Kittell.

Curriculum Committee—Seated: Dot Cheyney, Facla Robinson, Esther Cresson, Marilyn Cahn, Walenah Quinery, Alice Ingram, Shirley Harris, Mary J. Hobbs, Martyssome Beloney, Doris Ball, Doris Higgins, Chairman; Miriam Scott. • Standing: Nancy Osteen, Mildred Palmer, Betty Jane Carr, Marjorie Roseman, Rose Z. Post.

Honor Board...

under Page Coleman succeeded in bringing the question of personal, academic and social honor into the consciousness of every Woman's College student. Its ideal is a practical application of individual responsibility and responsible freedom.

Finance Board...

under the capable leadership of Dr. Keister and Jean Griffith, had the important task of allotting money to all student organizations and of helping the four classes handle their funds.

Student Faculty Reviewing Committee...

under the chairmanship of Mr. James Painter took up any questions or "gripes" from students and faculty members and made recommendations to the proper authorities.

Points Committee...

in order that no one did more than her share, our Points Committee limited the number of student officers every girl could carry—thus giving each girl a chance to display her talents and abilities.

Elections Board...

urging us to vote and providing posters and ballots, Elections Board supervised our campus-wide elections and counted our ballots. They worked hard and brought about splendid results.

Curriculum Committee...

It was the duty of Doris Higgins Lauten and her committee to discuss and make recommendations for any changes in curriculum.

" From Start

“Our College Days Ran

The Senior Class of 1948! We did it. Four years ago we might just as well have talked of a trip to the moon as being Seniors, or as it seemed, but here we are, in no time at all—it couldn't have been four years!

But four years it was, and we loved every minute. The last year, we'd say unanimously, was the best. Then we took over S. G. A. offices, edited publications, headed organizations and were in charge of society and class formals. We came into our own, and we worked hard to keep our school and our class "second to none".

They were busy months: practice teaching, going to extra labs, spending weeks in the Home Ec. practice house, sweating over co-ordinating courses, trying to get in all the lectures and concerts, facing the problem of "what to do next year", dashing off for that Big Week-end at Carolina, then back to W. C. for more work. We did more things at once than we would have believed possible.

Swiftly By”

It wasn't all work, though. In October we had our Senior Formal, under the direction of Frances Winston and her committee. In May the Juniors honored us at the Junior-Senior, and just before that "final day", we had our own Senior Ball.

Now we're ready to go out to assume our responsibilities in the world. But we go with a million wonderful memories: W. C. will go with us wherever we are!

All Began

Bathed in the gold of the late summer sun and stretching beyond our eyes lay the grounds of the Woman's College. Six hundred and thirty-five inquisitive, hopeful young women came from several states that September day in 1944; those of us who lived nearby were busy unpacking the family car while others of us struggled from trains and buses into Cotten, Coit, Gray, Bailey, and Hinshaw Halls, for those were the days when war restrictions made travel difficult. The quadrangle, the hill and the lake, the post office, the corner, McIver building—everywhere that day we wandered, searching for the limits of this spacious new home to which we had come. If at first we were terrified by the limitless grounds we were quickly reassured by the discovery that this was a friendly place. Strangers turned quickly into friends and neighbors and the warmth of greetings by late afternoon gave the halls the glow that only youth can bring.

In the weeks that followed, and with the help of our faculty and junior advisors, we were orientated, registered, and we trotted off to 8:00 o'clock classes—only after we had experienced these sensations could we really call ourselves the freshmen of W. C. When we had learned those things that go to make W. C. a college and a home, the democratic rules of student government, we accepted our given responsibilities and elected the officers who guided us the remainder of our freshman year. Georgia Olive and Martha Allen became our president and vice-president, Bess Brothers and "Slim" Partish our secretary and treasurer, and Peggy Clemmer, freshman class cheerleader. The lavender and white banner we carried to mass meeting bore our class colors and the class motto, Know Thyself. Our class song was composed by Elaine Plauff.

Ours was a full life that year, we were gay and mischievous freshmen, studious and serious freshmen, and yes, at times we were homesick freshmen, but our hours were filled with duties and our heads with plans. The freshman class project that year consisted of initiating the lost-and-found bulletin board in the post office. In the spring we sponsored a university sermon with Mr. Koonz as speaker, and we had our freshman formal which we called "Easter Parade" with Caroline Lockhart as dance chairman.

All too soon the days ran swiftly by; we watched the seniors we had learned to respect pass through the halls of Aycock and into the world. Eagerly we rushed to fill the places left vacant by the incoming juniors—for we were sophomores.

The school year 1945-46 found the class of '45 under the leadership of president Martha Allen, vice-president Ruth Macy, secretary Margaret Johnson, and treasurer Sarah Jane White. Our cheerleader was Martha Ann Hull.

In the fall we adopted Saphira Moreau, an eight year old Belgian war orphan and by our contributions provided for her throughout the year. . . . We sponsored weekly Saturday night dances in the Hut where many a winter night's chill succumbed to the glow of logs burning brightly there in the fireplace.

That feeling of extreme importance accorded sophomores the world over manifested itself in us with the first appearance of the black-jacketed class of '46—the theme?—not mourning but utter sophistication! To add to our precedence came the day-of-days—Sophomore Day—with Georgia Olive as chairman. All this we followed by a banquet in North dining hall headed by Helen Davault, and the presentation of "Sophomore Day" in Aycock under the direction of Bunny Dodds.

May 1946 soon passed us by . . . we were growing up and turning to more serious thoughts—for we were juniors.

Campus events our junior year got off to an early start . . . during freshman week we sponsored a talent program directed by Betty Rabey for our sister class, the freshmen.

The class formal came in autumn with the figure led by dance chairman Tink Johnson. This was the year we sponsored as our class project the campus haven for smokers and those not too particular about the correct nourishment for breakfast—the immortal Junior Shop, under the leadership of Helen DeVault. Father Walsh delivered the address at our university sermon and held the attention of many interested students in the informal discussions to which we were invited during his visit to our campus.

According to custom, we sponsored the Junior-Senior formal in the late spring with Nancy Jeffrey as dance chairman.

In May we rushed forward eagerly to occupy the chapel seats left vacant by the departing class of '47; we had reached that for which we had aspired—for we were seniors!

With footsteps proud and sure we tread upon familiar grounds in the fall of '47. This was our last—and best year . . . we watched the days fly past with Isabel Howard as Class President; Caroline Flack, Vice-President; Betty Rabey, Secretary; Martha Causey, Treasurer; and Judy Vann, Cheerleader.

"Moonlight Mood" was the theme for our Formal in October, with Frances Winston as dance chairman. We received equal pleasure in our more serious moments from the message of Dr. Clarence P. Shedd of Yale University, senior class University Sermon speaker. To Dr. Edna Arundel, who so willingly guided us through three years of college as our class chairman, we dedicated this edition of Pine Needles.

In the spring our fancy turned lightly to thoughts of the Senior Unmusical and later to May Day ruled by May Queen Fran Norris. The stars in our eyes bordered on becoming tears on Graduation Day.

We, the Class of '48 will go forth into many and distant places but there will always remain among us a unity . . . of belonging to W. C.

On Saturday nights we danced at the Hut, our Sophomore Class Project (top) and as Juniors, we were in charge of the Junior Shop (above).

Saphira Moreau, a war orphan in Belgium, whom we adopted for three years.

We Turned Class Spirit

Our Junior year . . . we had found our places now . . . we knew where we were going, and we still had another year after this. . . . The year was filled with Junior class spirit and enthusiasm that “put over” everything we did. We were proud of our reputation. . . . “You can always count on the Junior Class.” We wore those “Ask Me” advisor tags with a new-found confidence . . . counted quality points and looked at averages and those hoped-for unlimiteds in a different light . . . welcomed the freshmen with our program in Aycock, Luther’s Minnie Ha-Ha, and a snakedance to the quadrangle party. This was the year of our “Harvest Moon” formal with the music of Roy Cole and our “Carolina-W.C. mixer” dance for our sister class, which we hoped to make traditional. Jane Perry and her committee dotted the campus with "Don't Tread on Me" and "use this door" signs. We gave that unforgettable minstrel (blacked faces, old time songs, and older jokes) to benefit our adopted Polish war orphan . . . went to our first college Junior-Senior, which we planned and carried out for the seniors . . . said goodbye to the class of '48 realizing that we would take their places as the class of '49. . . . The year was over almost before we knew it had begun.

Into School Spirit

We Began

Everyone has to be a freshman in order to be an upperclassman the next year—and we were the freshmen of 1947-1948. Yes, we were green at first, but soon learned our way through the maze of McIver basement and the intricacies of the card catalogue in the library. We learned to sign in and out, found out who Miss Moxley is, and settled down for closed study for the semester. Then came Rat Day—a day of subserviance to the “revered” upperclassmen. We wrote torrid love letters to boys we’d never seen or heard of, we scrubbed floors, we begged Dr. Jackson to marry us, we sang laundry lists, and we ended the day with a formal dinner given by the societies. We enjoyed it all, though, and our turn will come next year.

Exams were new and nerve-racking. We took late study, drank black coffee, and studied, studied, studied! But we got through and promised ourselves to be ready for exams next time. Shortly after, we elected our class officers, and composed our class song, and selected our motto. Then came our first formal! Dates, corsages, evening dresses—all ready for the big dance, and what a wonderful time we had!

Exams again and then the year was over; but we'll be back again next year for the dances, bull sessions, corner excursions, bridge games and studying. We'll soon be sophomores!

Freshman Town Students

We Learned The Arts

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors—all in one we were. Here for only a year, we have mastered shorthand, bookkeeping, typing, and yet we have been an integral part of a college life. Our studies kept us busy, but there was always time for dances, bull sessions, bridge, trips to the corner, movies—in short, we had a wonderful time. Early in the year we elected our class officers and chose our motto. Our dormitory life was made far more pleasant by our sympathetic house president and our friendly counselor. We made lasting friendships and prepared ourselves for business careers. Never shall we forget that last mass meeting when, the year almost gone, we marched out singing our class song. Then, at last, the coveted certificates, for which we worked and waited so long. It was a happy year—one we shall never forget.

BETTY LOU NANCE
President

Leading the way in an indispensable phase of campus life, the Y. W. C. A., through its campus clubs, seeks to teach effective personal growth, and the human relationships of everyday living in the social, political and economic worlds of today.

The Woman's College "Y" finds a keynote to its activities in the purpose of the National Y. W. C. A. "We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow him."

Composed of twenty-five members the "Y" cabinet meets every Monday night and serves as director of the Individual class groups. Seven clubs . . . senior, junior, sophomore, and four freshman groups . . . hold bi-monthly meetings and during the year carry out various projects which they have undertaken. These clubs, welcoming members from all faiths . . . Catholic, Jewish and Protestant . . . are the "wheel" of the campus organization, the Y. W. C. A.

Billie McNeely . . . Vice-President
Mary Elizabeth Smith . . . Treasurer
Nancy Porter . . . Secretary

Christian Association

"Y" activities are many and varied. This year some of the class groups have made scrapbooks for the polio center in Greensboro, sent packages to the Navajo Indians, and mailed CARE packages. Besides the individual club projects, the "Y" holds vesper services every Thursday night, serves coffee and doughnuts for church-goers on Sunday mornings, and provides Y-teen leadership. At Christmas the tradition of singing carols and the hanging of the green on dormitory doors was carried out by Freshman "Y" groups. The organization helped prepare the students for the social science forum by open discussions relating to the current social crisis.

Successful during the year were the deputations which the "Y" had with near-by colleges: State, Carolina and Davidson. The organization sent W. C. representatives to various conferences . . . the North American Student Conference on Christian Frontiers at the University of Kansas, Conference on Applied Christianity in Chapel Hill, and the State Y. M. Y. W. Retreat near Wake Forest.

During the summer the incoming President attends school at New York's Union Theological Seminary. The Vice-President went to the Inter-cultural Institute at Chapel Hill for six weeks.

The Y. W. C. A., under the direction of Miss Maxine Garner, head of Religious Activities, plays a vital part on campus in creating and perpetuating a wholesome understanding between the students.

Inter-Faith Council

The Inter-Faith Council plays an important part in student life. Representing all religions, it has as its purpose the promotion of better understanding and fellowship. Among the religious groups, likewise, the Council seeks to help each student to strengthen and grow in her own tradition by helping her to become better informed about her religion and by aiding her to be more active in her particular group.

The Council, consisting of representatives from all denominations, from both the student body and faculty, meets twice each month. These meetings, open to everyone, are effective in strengthening the spirit of harmony among the different religions.

Betty McKinney, Vice-president, and Helen DeVault, Secretary, contributed greatly to the success of the Council's plans by such programs as the one on Music of the Different Religions, and discussion groups on the basic beliefs of the different religions. Student participation in these programs was encouraged.

Distinguished religious speakers visited the campus for several days to participate in the Religion in The Family Week. On the panel discussing the views of the churches toward marriage were Mrs. Arnold Nash of Chapel Hill, Rabbi Abraham Feinstein from Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Dr. A. H. Clemmons from the Catholic University in Washington, D. C. Dr. Algernon Black, of the Ethical Culture Schools in New York City was sponsored by the Council in connection with Freedom Week.

During Brotherhood Week, the Inter-Faith Council sponsored their first radio program which was broadcast over the University Hour from Chapel Hill, in collaboration with the Communication Center there. The program consisted of an allegory, Symphony in Discord, and a short address by Governor Cherry.

It was a good year under the capable leadership of Ann Genden and with the invaluable aid of Miss Maxine Garner. Collaboration with dorm devotionals in panel discussions helped the Council to take admiral strides toward its goal of a harmony of spirit at W. C.

Dawson says 'save' . . . Drives and more drives . . . Service through education"—These are the familiar by-words of the "never-failed-yet" Service League.

Floor leaders, hall leaders, committee chairmen, and faculty sponsors all worked together under the leadership of Gladys Chambers to go over the top in the Campus Purse Drive this year with an "all time high" of $4,206.50, to send $1,106.50 of this fund directly to CARE to be converted into food, to put over a successful "Christmas In October" with a truckload of presents to go overseas, to conduct a clothing drive, to awaken a consciousness of pride in keeping our campus clean, and to work toward keeping W. C. students aware of "what's going on in the world"—Service Through Education.

Calling themselves the "You need it, we speed it" organization, the Service League was always ready for any and all emergencies. Its workers were ever ready to do what its name implied—serve.

The Choir

One of the highlights of the year was the annual Christmas Carol Service in December, presented by the choir, under the expert direction of Mr. George M. Thompson. The Choir, composed of over 150 voices, also presented an Easter Service and provided the music for the University Sermons and special chapel programs. A joint musical was given by the choir and orchestra during commencement.

The Orchestra

Under the direction of Dean Hugh Altwater, the orchestra is composed of citizens of Greensboro, students, and faculty members of Woman's College. This group gives concerts in the fall and spring and joins with the choir to give a program at commencement.

From Blue-Prints

We returned to school in September, eager to start to work on "the book"—only to find that the Pine Needles was without a home—the News Bureau having taken over in the summer. After contemplating moving up to the attic—or down to the Students' Building—we finally settled down with the Coraldi in the basement of the Alumnae House and started to work in earnest. We studied the "blue-prints" of the annual and tried to figure out what the typical W. C. student thought, saw, and remembered.

To A Yearbook

The smoke gathered and coke bottles accumulated in Bunny's room as the literary staff strained their brains over write ups. . . "Do you think that's really typical?" . . . "Oh, really, that's just too corny" . . . "What word starting with 'w' will go with worked, wondered and walked?" . . .

"Pop" Taylor, armed with camera, flashbulbs, and a good sense of humor, became a familiar sight on campus day and night . . . while we flooded the P. O. with locals and prayed that it wouldn't rain and the leaves wouldn't fall until we'd taken the outdoor shots.

As deadlines approached, we stayed up nights printing pictures, trying to identify unfamiliar faces, reading proof, and typing while we gritted our teeth over the fact that the P. E. majors had so many activities under their names ! !

Meanwhile, Marybelle and her grand staff of eager workers gathered in the ads . . . chased madly around town trying to catch advertising managers when they weren't busy (urged on by the fact that Wilma King met Joseph Cotten while soliciting!) . . . and broke last year's record by going way over our goal ! !

After everything had finally been sent off to Charlotte we breathed a sigh of relief . . . and immediately began to pray that we wouldn't have to mail the books out again this year. We enjoyed a good laugh over the big black problems that plagued us all year . . . they didn't seem as big and black anymore. We realized that it took a heap o' working to make an annual progress from the dummy pages to the real thing. How could we ever have done it without Mr. Wilkinson's help on last minute pictures . . . "Scoop" Campbell's assistance from the "Hill" . . . and James' good humor and advice at all times ! ! We appreciate, too, the fine cooperation and patience of the Charlotte Engraving Company and The Lassiter Press.

In March, 1897, twenty-two years before the publication of the first Cary, the Woman's College literary magazine was born with the name Coraddi, derived from the initial letters of the three literary societies, CORnelian, ADELphian, and DIkean. The Coraddi has always been student written and student edited. It provides experience for students in art work, advertising, and copy, but more especially, it provides a means of publication of student writing.

The year for the Coraddi staff begins with policy discussion. This year, in the belief that student interest can be obtained with the present high literary quality of the magazine, the staff has attempted to present the best writing on campus, not only that done by the staff but the work of members of the Quill Club and of the several writing classes. Student appeal without sacrifice of quality has been the aim of the magazine.

But Coraddi is not, as some may think, all seriousness. Staff meetings are chaotic. Through this window pass those—for the staff simply refuses to make a more conventional entrance. They all search madly for ash trays (only to please James). Someone screams, "Move over! Here come the Pine Needles staff! (The two organizations now amicably share the same headquarters.) Someone else complains, "But I just can't write anything before Tuesday." And then suddenly five staff members leap out the window so as to be sure not to miss a crucial question being discussed in the Cary office. And so it goes—

Finally Coraddi is slipped under the door and the staff heaves a collective sigh of relief. All's over but the shouting and the student body supplies that. "What does this poem mean?" "I don't think this is really a story." But the staff refuses to be bothered. They settle back with a sigh and a smile and won't be budged until deadline comes round again.

"Curtain going up at eight o'clock" . . . "Has everybody kissed Thumper?" . . . "What's that cue again?" . . . The big night! Few people realized the hard work that went into those productions. Any afternoon at Aycock, Play-Likers could be found . . . flying flats, or risking their lives hoisting the "trap door", to the sound of hammers, saws, and screams from the second floor level, the flies, and the basement . . . "Hand me that stage brace" . . . "Foot that flat" . . . "Watch how you sling that paint" . . .

Rehearsals began at seven P. M. (Student's or Aycock), and they were work, too . . . "Take that line again" . . . "You're swallowing your words" . . . "Project" . . . "Enunciate"! Baggy-eyed Play-Likers told the tale of those "nights at Aycock".

We had our fun, too. All of it went together to make "Aycock" . . . It gets in your blood. After a show was over, there was that inner satisfaction of a good job, a finished production, worth all the work and all the time we spent producing it.

The Entire Cast of Twelfth Night.

Up... House Dim

We began the year with our summer school show, Claudia, starring Anna Kirkman and directed by Mr. W. R. Taylor. Then we followed with Years Ago, also directed by Mr. Taylor, with Audrey Blackburn's memorable performance as Ruth Gordon . . . and our Shakespearean drama, Twelfth Night, directed by a new member of the drama department, Mr. Wayne Bowman. Who could forget Dr. Bardolph as Sir Toby, and the polished performances of Ethelyn Reaben, Mary Belle Teague, and Doris Brinkley? And we had our big chance in The Women—forty-three parts, all women! Miss Gaylan Collier, another newcomer, did a beautiful job of directing this one. Iris Ann Peterson was outstanding as Sylvia, and Mary Belle Teague made another hit as Mary Haines. We tried a new venture this year and presented three experimentals for the Arts Forum, student written and directed. In the spring we presented another bill of experimentals.

All it took to be a Play-Liker was interest . . . willingness to work . . . love for Aycock . . . and blue jeans! Those Play-Likers who did outstanding work technically and dramatically were tapped in Masqueraders. This year's officers were Iris Ann Peterson, President; Natalie Bates, Vice-President; Mary Belle Teague, Secretary; Betty McKinney, Publicity Chairman; and Ethelyn Reaben, business manager.

We also reestablished our Zeta Omega chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, national Dramatic Honorary Society. Those honored were: Mary Belle Teague, Iris Ann Peterson, Barbara Pelton, Audrey Blackburn, Janet Jones, and Natalie Bates.

Recreation Association Cabinet

The Recreation Association Cabinet is made up of sports heads, club presidents, committee chairmen, and three faculty members, including the faculty head of intramurals and a dormitory counselor. Cabinet members are elected by the students for their ability to lead and organize sports and other recreational activities. It is their duty to decide on policies and procedures for the Recreation Association and to help solve problems concerning recreation for the campus.

This year the cabinet reorganized and renamed the four leagues on which campus competition is based. It is hoped that in this way participation and skilled players will be more evenly distributed.

A campus wide square dance was sponsored through the joint efforts of the cabinet and the social planning council.

All meetings are presided over by the president, Bess Brothers.

Under the new league names, Blue Beta, Green Gamma, Red Alpha, and Purple Kappa, athletics at W. C. got off to a big start with hockey and speedball leading the way in the fall season. Practices were climaxed by a round robin tournament and play day at which W. C. was hostess to several neighboring colleges. Tennis and volley ball tournaments were also highlights of the colorful autumn season.

Early in December cold weather drove sports enthusiasts indoors and the gym resounded to a chorus of "gym meet, gym meet, here we come," as students vaulted, swung, and tumbled during Tuesday afternoon gymnastics practices. Recreational modern dance paved the way for prospective dance group members and basketball held the center of the stage for many enthusiastic participants. Physical Education majors coached non-major dormitory teams for the league tournament, and played off a tournament of their own on a class basis. Recreational sports rounded out the spirited winter season.

Almost before the snow was off the ground softball fans were down in the diamond yelling, "Play ball!" Leagues contested vigorously for the championship in this major spring sport. Individual sports devotees came into their own as tennis courts became crowded, targeteers improved their aim on the archery range, and as golfers got into swing.

The swimming pool provided hot weather relief as the year round schedule of recreational dip periods continued. Boating and canoeing on the lake gave an opportunity for more enjoyable leisure time in the spring season.

Club presidents came forth with excellent leadership in their special interest groups as students enjoyed the many functions in Square Dance Club, Modern Dance Group, Clogging Club, Boot and Spur, Dolphin-Seal, Golf, and Archery Clubs. The atmosphere of a night club invaded the swimming pool as Dolphin-Seal members used Aquacabana as the theme of their water pageant. Warm April weather brought the annual horse show in which Boot and Spur Club members and other campus equestrians proved their skill. Square Dance club was hostess to the Appalachian State Teachers' College square dance team and to Mr. Gene Gowling, National authority on American dance. The targeteers enjoyed participation in the National Telegraphic Archery Meet. The Golf Club gave valuable instruction to interested students. The spotlight shone on the Modern Dance group during the 5th Annual Arts Forum and on a highly entertaining chapel program. Clogging Club added a note of variety to gym meet. Camp Counselors Club gave members help in problems they would meet in a camp situation.

And speaking of camps, the Recreation Association camp. Abutforfun. was always ready for a week-end of relaxation and fun. The last cabinet meeting in the spring was held here.

Fall and winter suppers completed each of the respective seasons. Here league and dormitory winners were announced. In the spring a large final banquet was held in which awards and honors were presented, and students were chosen to honor group, the highest mark of distinction in the Recreation Association. Thus ended a year of play with the R. A. which came closer to our ideal—a sport for every girl, and a girl for every sport.

Beverly Bell

Social Chairman

The Social Planning Council was set up to carry out an expanding social program. The council this year consisted of the College Social chairman, Beverly Bell, as acting chairman, Miss Dorothy Clement, counselor for the group, and the following organization heads: Betty Lou Nance, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Ann Genden, president of the Inter-faith Council; the four society presidents, Marjorie Chapman, Minor Boring, Katharine Malloy, and Margaret Johnson, and Bess Brothers, head of the Recreation Association. Social chairmen in the halls worked independently of the council, but met with the College Social Chairman to discuss plans for their groups, and to assist in carrying on the campus-wide social program.

The aims of the Social Planning Council are: to allocate responsibilities to certain groups, to prepare a schedule of fixed programs for the year, to manage a flexible social program, and to present from time to time certain organized campus functions. As a sort of clearing house for any social activities on campus, the council is anxious to help any group or dormitory in their social functions.

In providing opportunities for all students to get together informally, the Council this year presented a Street Dance in October, financed by an auction in the quadrangle sponsored by the four Societies. Working with the Recreation Association, a Barn Dance was presented in the gym in January, preceded by a Hill-Billy Sing in the Hut. Then in April the Men's Glee Club from Carolina was presented in a concert in Aycock Auditorium. A series of formal dinners under the sponsorship of the societies was arranged by the council for such occasions as George Washington's Birthday, St. Patrick's Day and other holidays.

The Council this year attempted to reach more students in its planning, and to give the responsibility for different events into the hands of more students.

Societies At W.C.

The Societies—Adelphian, Aletheian, Cornelian, Dikean—are the traditional centers of campus-wide social life. On Rat Day the Freshmen and Transfers were victims of the lordly upperclassmen and then were made full-fledged Society members at the Initiation Banquets. In October the Societies staged an auction, selling all kinds of things to eager buyers. Working with the Social Planning Council, they sponsored the annual Street Dance, which was a big success in spite of the fact that it had to be held in the gym due to bad weather. The Adelphian-Aletheian Ball in January and the Cornelian-Dikean Ball in February were glamorous highlights of the year.

The Societies are responsible for other important activities. The Society marshals, proudly wearing their white dresses and regalias, were the official hostesses of the college at lectures, concerts, and Graduation Week. The Book Exchange has helped solve the problem of what to do with secondhand books. Small informal parties added to the campus social life. The Societies have played their part in making this year more fun.

In January, an exhibit of work by North Carolina artists was on display; in February—work exhibited by North Carolina architects; and in March—paintings submitted for Arts Forum from schools all over the country. In April there was an exhibit of the work of North Carolina students, and on display in May was the work of students in our Art Department.
